THE WAR!

AFFAIRS RAPIDLY CULMINATING.

FIGHTING AT METZ.

SEVENTY-ONE THOUSAND PRISONERS IN THE HANDS OF THE PRUSSIANS.

SATURDAY'S TELEGRAMS.

GERMANY.

BRONKIN, August 13.—Advices from St. Avois & Friday night represent that the French army is west of the Moselle and still retreating.

The Prussian Cavalry had reached Pont-a-Mousson, about half way between Metz and Nancy, on the railroad.

Part of the Prussian army has invaded Strasbourg.

The Prussians as they advance, capture vast stores which have been abandoned by the French.

CARLSCHEID, August 13.—Strasburg has capitulated after a short bombardment.

COLOGNE, August 13.—The king of Prussia has issued a proclamation at St. Avois, in which he declares the military conscription abolished in all French territory, occupied by German troops.

He also announces that though the French government should persist in the forcible expulsion of Germans from France no measures of retaliation will be adopted by him, as it would be unfair to punish men belonging to a country cursed with a Bonaparte.

British Reports.

LONDON, August 13.—The investment of Strasbourg was not known in Paris until Friday.

A Frenchman, and an officer, who left London a few days ago full of patriotic ardor and hope for his country, writes as follows:

I have just met some persons from Nancy who have retreated before the Prussians, who day before yesterday were at Vire, a few miles from Nancy. They will move thence by Frouard, and probably join the other army behind Châlons, perhaps at Paris.

Why the French army remains concentrated before Metz nobody understands. It is believed that the Prussians are already at Nancy, and it appears that the Prussians are already at Nancy, and it appears that the empire is rolled up like a scroll.

What Arsenio Houssay said in the papers is true: "For twenty years nobody in France has studied war. Everything has been done superficially, while the Prussians are first in military science, and have now proved they are first in war. It is hard for me to confess this, but it is true. Notwithstanding all these great victories of soldiers, the lesson of 1808 will not reappear."

The losses of the French are already incredible. Of regiments of 3,000 men sometimes only a hundred remain. Of the Three engaged at Weissenburg, but twenty-five are left.

The truth is slowly leaking out. It shows the position of the French army to be worse and worse. Some days ago a dispatch, meant to be reassuring, was placarded, stating that Gen. De Feuilly had established communication with McMahon.

A Book for the Million.

MARRIAGE A Private Comedy. By J. H. Green. A story told to the mother of a young man, who is about to marry, of the physiological mysteries and revelations of the sexual system, with the most discoveries in procreation and preventing conception, how to preserve the complexion, etc.

This is an interesting work of two hundred and twenty-four pages, with numerous engravings, and contains valuable information for those who are married or contemplating marriage, still it is a book that ought to be kept under lock and key, and not laid carelessly about the house, sent in one (free of postage) for fifty cents. NOTICE TO THE AFFLICTED AND UNHAPPY. A notice to all the poor in the nation. Advice to artists in public papers, or any good reason, person Dr. Butts' work, whatever your disease is, or how deplorable our condition.

Dr. Butts can be consulted, personally or by mail, on the diseases mentioned in his works. No. 12 North Eighth street, between Market and Chestnut, St. Louis, Mo.

Send to druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere.

The Imperishable Perfume.

As rules, the perfumes now in use have a short permanency. An hour or two after their use, there is no trace of perfume left.

How different is the result succeeding the use of Murray and Lamont's Toilet Water. Days after its application the sandalwood exudes a most delightful, delicate and agreeable fragrance.
